The 167th Airlift Squadron is located at Eastern West Virginia Regional Airport, in Martinsburg, WV, located about 1 1/2 hours West of Baltimore and Washington DC. Our mission is Strategic Airlift. The squadron flies the C-17 Globemaster III Aircraft.

We routinely fly 5 local sorties per week and 2-3 aircraft are employed stateside or overseas at any given time. In peacetime the 167th Airlift Squadron is assigned to the State of West Virginia serving the Governor as our Commander in Chief. If the unit is federally activated for any reason, our Commander in Chief is the President of the United States.

If selected for a pilot position, your obligation to the Air National Guard will be a minimum of two years of full-time training and an additional ten years of part-time service upon completion of UPT. You will be required to fly at least monthly, attend one drill weekend each month and be available for an average of seven days per month to remain fully qualified.

The Wing convenes a selection board one to two times each year and will select candidates as needed. Once we receive your application package, it will remain on file for consideration for one year. If we receive updated information such as resume changes, the file will be kept for an additional year from when the update is received.

WEST VIRGINIA AIR NATIONAL GUARD UNDERGRADUATE PILOT TRAINING APPLICATION WORKBOOK

This workbook describes the application process for individuals interested in becoming a pilot in the 167th Airlift Squadron. Individuals must meet the requirements established by the United States Air Force and those of the West Virginia Air National Guard.

ELIGIBILITY

AGE: You should be no older than 28 at the time of application. The age regulation for pilots states that a candidate must be under the age of 30 the day they begin UPT. For planning, the earliest expected UPT start is one year from the date of the interview.

EDUCATION: A bachelor's degree from an accredited four-year college or university is required. If you are enrolled in your final semester at the time of the interview, your application will be considered.

AFOQT: The Air Force Officers Qualification Test is mandatory prior to your application being considered. This test takes approximately 4 hours and may be scheduled through our base training office at (304) 616-5289. You may call any Air Force Recruiter or ROTC detachment to schedule this test. Minimum Scores required by ANG Instruction 36-2005 are:

VERBAL: 15

QUANTITATIVE: 10

PILOT: 25

NAVIGATOR: 10

TOTAL: 50 (the minimum required score when adding pilot and navigator totals)

These scores are minimum scores required to pass the AFOQT test. If you did not achieve these minimums, you can retake this test, but only one time. The second test resets all results. The scores of this test are a factor in the interview process. It is strongly recommended that you prepare for this test. You will find study material online or at most bookstores and libraries that carry SAT preparatory material.

TBAS Testing (Basic Attributes Test) The Basic Attribute Test is an eye-hand coordination test usually done at an Active Duty Air Force Base or ROTC location. Schedule this at the same time you schedule the AFOQT.

PHYSICAL: All pilot applicants must be in excellent physical and psychological health. Minimum vision requirements are 20/70 corrected to 20/20 with no exception. You must have full hearing in both ears and meet height and weight standards.

MORAL STANDARD: This section involves criminal history. A local application is included in this workbook. Any law violations, including juvenile offenses and traffic violations must be documented on this application. Law violations do not necessarily disqualify an individual but non-disclosure of any offense is disqualifying. If selected, a federal background check will be initiated as part of the security clearance requirement.

APPLICATION PACKAGE: This workbook includes the items that are mandatory in your application package. A package will only be considered for an interview if it is complete. For any required item that is not included, you must attach a letter of explanation. All packages will be kept on file for 1 year.

INTERVIEWS

Interviews will be conducted periodically as determined by the needs of the unit. Normally we interview 10-12 candidates per class slot. Generally, the 167th is allocated 1 or 2 class slots each fiscal year. The interview process follows:

All Pilot Packages will be considered by a selection team comprised of at least 2 pilots. This team will submit 10 – 12 packages to the Operations Group Commander with requests for interviews.

The Operations Group Commander will convene a board of officers to review the applications and interview each applicant. The board will be charged to evaluate each applicant's suitability to be commissioned as an officer in the United States Air Force and Air National Guard.

The board will rate the candidates by point values based on AFOQT results, educational experience, flying experience and personality to determine the ranking of the applicants. The board will also be directed to eliminate any applicant who they deem not suited for commissioning and flight training.

SELECTION PROCESS

The board will submit the desired applicants through command channels for review and approval. Final approval rests with the US Air Force. To follow is the selection process:

IF SELECTED AS A PILOT CANDIDATE OR ALTERNATE

The applicants will be required to pass a full flying Class I physical at Wright-Patterson AFB, OH.

Applicants will be required to submit a Top Secret Security Clearance Survey.

Non-Prior Service candidates will be enlisted into the unit and expected to attend Drill weekends until graduation from TFOT. Before attending TFOT, you'll be enlisted at E-3 grade, and during TFOT, you'll be enlisted at E-5 grade.

Applicants will be notified as soon as class dates are provided to the unit. The unit may also be offered an additional class assignment on short notice due to cancellations by other units.

Please note: The amount of coordination and paperwork required for a candidate can be very demanding. You must be prepared for no notice trips to the 167th to sign paperwork, provide copies of documents, testing etc. Generally the approval process takes 6 months, possibly longer. The approval process will go through the chain of command starting with the 167th Airlift Squadron followed by WV State Headquarters, Air National Guard Headquarters and United States Air Force Headquarters.
